

Issue 1
10-10-18

The CJDS Newspaper

---

READERS RESPOND: Students Find Bones Near CJDS Pond

By: Lilah S.

What is your favorite thing about your buddy?

Please write your name and answer on a piece of paper and place it in the envelope outside Dr. D's office. Answers will be shared in the newspaper.

---

Animal bones found by students near CJDS pond.

Photo by: Ruthie M.

Fifth and 6th graders found a skeleton near the pond on the CJDS campus.

Some students were interested and surprised, but some were disgusted. One student believes that the bones are from a groundhog.

Some students decided that the animal may have died from getting hit by a car. The jaw bone has pointed, sharp teeth so it is likely a predator.

---

“Just do what you have to do.” -Susan C.

Some Students Not Getting to Whole School Tefillah on Time

By: Sam F.

Students are coming in the building on time after Morning Fitness but many teachers are concerned that they are getting to their classrooms late. Morah Sheri shed light on the issue, “I don’t think it’s getting in the building that’s a problem. It’s when we’re wasting time in the halls.”

There are solutions. “Just do what you have to do,” Susan Couden, a teacher who has regular Morning Fitness duty said, “Don’t hang out in the hallways.” As a result of students spending too much time in the hallways, kids aren’t getting to whole school Tefillah on time.

Fourth grade student, Eva K. doesn’t think her classmates are wasting time. “Our class is fast at getting the whole school Tefillah. We just line up and go.”

Morah Sheri has a suggestion. “Every Thursday teachers [could] be in the hallway helping students unpack and get lined up,” she said. Also, she pointed out, students should help by quickly putting their things in their lockers and going to their classrooms.

Students Start Fundraising to Buy Equipment

By: Zeke M.

One day on the playground a couple of kids including Jonah D. and Dovi W. were talking about how students argued about swings during Morning Fitness. A few students thought of the idea to buy more swings.

They suggested to others that they could raise money for new swings on the playground.

They thought of having lemonade stands or doing chores at home for money. Some students even began raising money in their neighborhood and brought $87 to school to add to the fund. But after meeting with teachers, the students decided to use the money for different equipment on the CJDS play area as well as buying things for people that need help.

---

Hot Lunch:

M – Mac n’ Cheese

T – Sloppy Joe

W – Baked Ziti

R – DIY tacos

F – BBQ Chicken

---

Hot Lunch Favorites

By: Ma’ayan C.

Students have been talking about their favorite Hot Lunches. Bram R. said his favorite hot lunch is pizza and he also likes mac n’ cheese.

Ethan S. said his favorite hot lunch is Do-It-Yourself tacos. The DIY tacos let kids arrange the taco with the toppings they like the best.

When asked what they would change about hot lunch, Ethan said that the pizza looks very orange and Bram brought up a good point. He said, “Students could make a choice of what they’d like to eat each day.”

---

Do you like to draw, create art, or write poems? Submit work to Dr. D to be displayed in the newspaper.

Expression Through Art Class

By: Vivian L.

Art is a wonderful thing because you can both express yourself and protest against injustice.

CJDS's own Art Master Susan Couden talked about her experience with art. She said she likes to draw human and animal faces. "I just like to look at them closely to see what a being really looks like." While she doesn't have a favorite medium when creating art, Susan says that she appreciates the wonder of the world and that her "students inspire [her] the most."

Victoria K. is an art student who likes to draw rabbits because she has a pet rabbit. Victoria's favorite color is turquoise and says the best "... thing about art is that you can fix your mistakes."

Art Master Susan Couden's painting, displayed in the entry way of CJDS.

---

Photo by: Ruthie M.

COMIC SECTION

Famous Last

Words By: Sam F.

CJDS Newspaper Staff:

Ruthie M.

Lilah S.

Zeke M.

Ma'ayan C.

Vivian L.

Sam F.

(From L – R)

